

SAVOY PALACE OPENS IN FUNCHAL IN SPRING 2019

The new Savoy Palace, part of Savoy Hotels & Resorts, will open in the spring of 2019 in the city of Funchal, just minutes from the main tourist attractions, museums, restaurants, monuments and about 20km from Madeira's Cristiano Ronaldo International Airport.

With 352 rooms and suites, a congress centre, a spa with 11 treatment rooms, a gym, two restaurants and bars, the interiors of the Savoy Palace were designed by Nini Andrade Silva and RH + Arquitectos.

The new and luxurious superior 5-star property, the Savoy Palace, boasts superb views of the ocean and gardens, blending bold, modern and historical styles. The island of Madeira is the host for this Savoy Hotels & Resorts project, which will undoubtedly raise the standards of this holiday destination.

A classic Madeira establishment, the new Savoy Palace is inspirational in the elegance of its interiors, comfort and attention to detail. This can be found in the quality of its materials, its perfect finishes, soft textures, rich decorative features and the interior design itself.

Signature interior design by Nini Andrade Silva and RH+ Arquitectos

A timeless classic, the interior design is influenced by a recent world history period, the Belle Époque, which is in total harmony with the island's cultural resources providing an exciting blend of existing natural and intangible heritage.

It brings together a number of elements: the exuberance of the surrounding landscape, the unique man-made environment, particularly the ancient irrigation channels (levadas) and tunnels, the excellence and mastery of Madeiran embroidery, the centuries-old art of wickerwork and the expertise involved in the production of one of the best fortified wines in the world - Madeira Wine. Together these unique features underlie the metamorphosis between the conceptual inspiration and the finished interior design.

In the reception area, a special atmosphere is created by the presence of an impressive chandelier and large mirror that give a feeling of space, sumptuousness and grandeur. The hotel's common areas are bold and inspirational with the emphasis on bright colours, sinuous curves suggesting plant forms, animals and women, as well as ornaments clearly based on Art Nouveau.

As you pass between the different floors of the hotel, you come across different types of rooms and suites that unequivocally reflect the comfort and elegance of the other upmarket areas of the city. We care about the importance of its features, the quality of materials and textures, and the exclusivity of this unique environment. We have created environments for living and conviviality, and others which are cosier and more intimate, suitable for rest and relaxation.

Entering this hotel will be like entering a poetic world, where colour, textures and iconic ornaments and objects are all important.

More information on Savoy Hotels & Resorts:

It was on the threshold of the twentieth century that the Savoy Hotel opened its doors and began to host the most distinguished aristocracy and visitors from all over Europe. From a small family business the name Royal has grown and become a legend in the art of well-being and service. In 2015, the Saccharum Resort & SPA and the Hotel Calheta Beach, both located in Calheta - on the south coast of Madeira, about 25 minutes from Funchal - became part of the Savoy Hotels & Resorts group. This was a remarkable milestone in the Group's history and the Savoy concept now extends to the six hotels which proudly bear the name Savoy:

- Madeira Regency Club – 4 stars – Funchal
- Royal Savoy – 5 stars – Funchal
- Savoy Calheta Beach – 4 stars – Calheta
- Savoy Palace – 5 stars (currently under construction)
- Savoy Saccharum – 5 stars – Calheta
- Tui Sensimar Savoy Gardens – 4 stars – Funchal

Now in the 21st century, the reputation of the Savoy brand and each of the Group's hotels is our main calling card and the key to our success, past, present and future. The history of Savoy Hotels & Resorts has been reinvented, but its goals remain unshakeable. Consolidating and projecting the centuries-old tradition and excellence of the Savoy brand at an international level is and will always be our priority.
